DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-5, 8-11, 14-16, 18-22, 24-26, 29-34, drawn to a diastolic volume limiting device (DIVOLA), classified in class 623, subclass 3.1.
- II. Claims 27-28, drawn to a volume compensation device (VCD), classified in class 600, subclass 18.
- III. Claims 6-7, 12-13, 17, 23 are drawn to a combination of group I (DIVOLA) and group II (VCD), classified in class 623, subclass 3.16.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention II (VCD) has separate utility of being implanted in a heart chamber by itself and passively or actively (inflating) assisting in pumping blood. The device could also be used as a skin expander. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

Inventions I and II are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination (i.e. claim 12) as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination (i.e. claim 1) as claimed not requiring a plastic sac with openings. The subcombination has separate utility as being used by itself to line a heart chamber exactly fitting said chamber to limit expansion thereof. The device could also be inflated and used as a mold to shape a heart chamber in a surgical procedure.

Inventions I and III are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination (i.e. claim 12) as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination (i.e. claim 27) as claimed not spacing being adjustable or the wall being connected. The subcombination has separate utility of being implanted in a heart chamber by itself and passively or actively (inflating) assisting in pumping blood. The device could also be used as a skin expander.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

A telephone call was made to Mr. Waddy to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Bruce E Snow whose telephone number is (703) 308-3255. The examiner can normally be reached on Mon-Thurs.
